

VENICE OF THE NORTH

St. Petersburg, which is often lovingly called 'Venice of the North', is strongly associated with its drawbridges. Looking at the design of this rug, one can see a boat passing under a bridge. This design was created by architect Oleg Klodt when he explored the synergy of architecture and water.

MATERIALS:

Background: Wool & silk

Pattern: Wool

Available in polyamide fibre*.

- * Polyamide is a synthetic fibre with excellent performance characteristics; polyamide fibre has a luxurious look and soft feel. Lowest price. Request additionally.

SIZES

Available in custom colours & sizes

LEAD TIME

16 weeks